Information and Networking Event

Interested in working for an International Financial Institution (IFI) in Asia?

Are you a Swiss national interested in private sector development in emerging economies? Do you have experience in the financial or corporate sectors? Does the idea of working in an IFI inspire you? Do you have a degree in Finance, Economics, Engineering, Sciences, or Business Administration, alongside relevant work experience, and would like to continue to pursue a career outside of Switzerland?

Explore your chances!

Take this opportunity to meet representatives from the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB), the Asian Development Bank (ADB), and representatives of the Swiss Confederation. In an interactive session, explore your chances of pursuing an inspiring career with such an institution:

- Learn more about the banks' work and areas of operation;
- Explore your chances of building a career within this sector;
- Get first-hand information about the requirements and processes for joining each institution;
- Network with representatives from the institutions, the Swiss Government and cinfo, as well as with other professionals.

AIIB, ADB and Switzerland

The Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) opened for business on January 16, 2016. As one of the first Western European founding members of the AIIB, Switzerland has actively shaped the establishment of the new Chinese-led, multilateral investment bank. The AIIB mainly focuses on the financing of infrastructure (e.g. energy and transport sector) and of urban development. On the cusp of becoming fully operational, the AIIB is recruiting new staff in a variety of areas.

Since its establishment in 1966, the Asian Development Bank (ADB) has committed $231.53 billion in loans to the vision of an Asia and Pacific region free of poverty. Switzerland has been among the first nations to join the Japan-led ADB and has contributed over $1 billion to the work of the bank. ADB's mission centres on reducing poverty in Asia through inclusive and environmentally sustainable growth, and regional integration.

In order to buttress further its unique position within the multilateral development community, Switzerland encourages qualified Swiss nationals with relevant competences and international experience to apply for positions within the AIIB and ADB.
